A LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Happy Advent!

This weekend we begin Advent by learning how to wait for the Lord. In this new season, carry two words with you, come and watch! Isaiah's prayer is both honest and full of trust. He knows that God's people have wandered from the Lord's ways, yet he still cries out, "You, Lord, are our father, our redeemer you are named forever." He remembers that we are the work of God's hands like clay in the hands of the potter, we are never beyond the reach of the One who made us. Advent invites us to pray with that same confidence. Lord, come close to us, turn us back toward you and shape our hearts anew.

In the Gospel, Jesus tells his disciples, "Be watchful! Be alert!" This is not a call to live in fear or to speculate anxiously about the future. It is a call to live awake by noticing the Lord who comes to meet us in the ordinary moments of our days. How might we keep watch this week? Begin the day with a simple prayer: "Come, Lord Jesus." Make room for a few quiet moments with God. There is no better place than our Adoration Chapel of the Blessed Sacrament. In the parish and neighborhood, look for someone who may need a welcome, a listening ear, or practical help.

As we draw near to our Lord in the Holy Mass, quiet your heart by praying in silence after Holy Communion. We have prayers in our Lumen Christi Missals to help us pray in silence. You come to Mass to watch and wait with the Lord.

May you have a blessed advent in Christ,

Father Cruz

¡Feliz Adviento!

Este fin de semana comenzamos el Adviento aprendiendo a esperar al Señor. En esta nueva temporada, lleva contigo dos palabras: ¡ven y observa! La oración de Isaías es a la vez sincera y llena de confianza. Él sabe que el pueblo de Dios se ha desviado de los caminos del Señor, pero aun así clama: "Tú, Señor, eres nuestro padre y nuestro redentor; ése es tu nombre desde siempre" Recuerda que somos obra de las manos de Dios, como arcilla en las manos del alfarero; nunca estamos fuera del alcance de Aquel que nos creó. El Adviento nos invita a orar con esa misma confianza. Señor, acércate a nosotros, haz que volvamos hacia ti y moldea nuestros corazones de nuevo.

En el Evangelio, Jesús les dice a sus discípulos: "¡Velen y estén preparados!" Esto no es un llamado a vivir con miedo ni a especular con ansiedad sobre el futuro. Es un llamado a vivir despiertos, prestando atención al Señor que viene a nuestro encuentro en los momentos cotidianos de nuestra vida. ¿Cómo podríamos estar atentos esta semana? Comienzan el día con una sencilla oración: "Ven, Señor Jesús." Hagan espacio para unos momentos de silencio con Dios. No hay mejor lugar que nuestra Capilla de Adoración del Santísimo Sacramento. En la parroquia y en el vecindario, busca a alguien que pueda necesitar una bienvenida, alguien que lo escuche o ayuda práctica.

Al acercarnos a nuestro Señor en la Santa Misa, aquieta tu corazón orando en silencio después de la Sagrada Comunión. Tenemos oraciones en nuestros misales Canta La Misa para ayudarnos a orar en silencio. Vienes a la Misa para velar y esperar con el Señor.

Que tengas un Adviento bendecido en Cristo,

Padre Cruz

In the Unexpected

"What could happen next?" How many times have you asked yourself that question in the past year? Though we most often use that expression when things don't seem to be going our way, this year it has been an expression of the constant changes to our world which the COVID-19 pandemic has wrought. But we might use the same expression to explain our feelings of being overwhelmed by blessings and good things, when the stars seem to align just right.

No matter what, we can say with certainty that tomorrow will not go exactly as we envisioned. Our lives are influenced by so many factors and the world around us is increasingly complex. Rather than be surprised by the unexpected, maybe we should expect the unexpected.

Living in this manner causes us to cherish more deeply the gifts we have been given. It helps us to live in the present and become mindful of those around us. Our relationships deepen. Our sense of responsibility builds. Our stewardship way of life finds new meaning and purpose.

This Advent will not be the same experience as last Advent. It remains to be seen what the coming days and weeks have in store for each of us. However, no matter what happens, Jesus Christ is there to welcome us to the unexpected. He will celebrate with us in joy and he will even feel our pain. You can count on the unexpected, but you can also count on Him to be there with you. He is now and forever, Emmanuel, "God with us." He is the expected in all things unexpected.

ADVENT & CHRISTMAS

First Sunday of Advent – November 29, 2026

"Be watchful! Be alert! You do not know when the time will come." (Mark 13:33)

Advent begins with Christ's call to remain watchful and attentive. God's call is first heard when we learn to recognize His voice amid the distractions of daily life. Could the Lord be inviting you to consider priesthood or consecrated life, serving His people with a generous heart? Stay awake to His call through prayer, Eucharistic Adoration, and time with Scripture. Talk to your priest or contact the Vocation Office at (602) 354-2005 or by email.

Family of Faith Called to Live the Love of Christ

How do we do this?

- We are called to receive the broken, lame, and rejected and offer them a field hospital where they can be triaged and healed through the encounter with Christ.
- The Lord invites them to conversion of life as a result of his love, as he did for the woman at the well.
- We invite them into this home and family where they can live in community and grow to maturity in their life and faith.
- We invite them to keep growing in this love to full sanctity, ultimately so we all participate in the beatific vision with God.

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS
By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

Filling up on Advent

I've learned the hard way to keep Saltines on the top shelf, far out of the kids' reach. Saltines are a perfectly lovely little snack, but they're so light and salty and full of air that my children consume entire sleeves of them without realizing it. "I'm not hungry — I ate a bunch of Saltines!" they protest when I call them to the table for dinner.

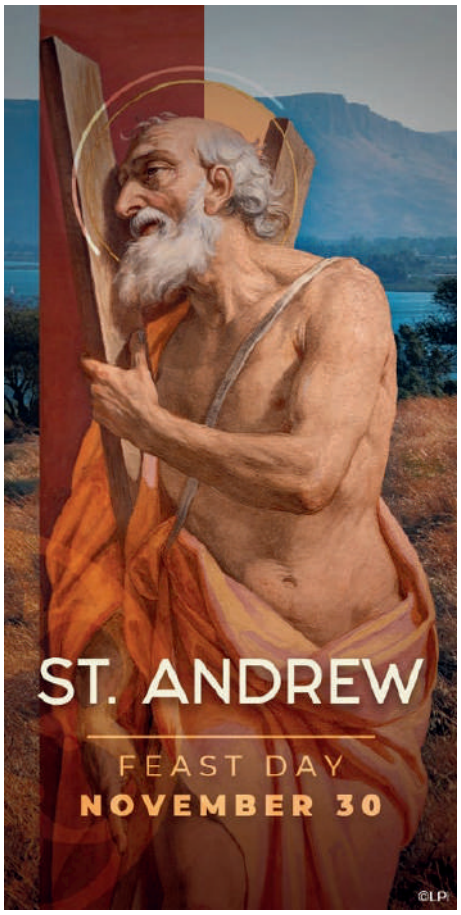

I think I'm going to have it tattooed on my hand, just so I don't have to keep saying it: what fills you up doesn't necessarily feed you.

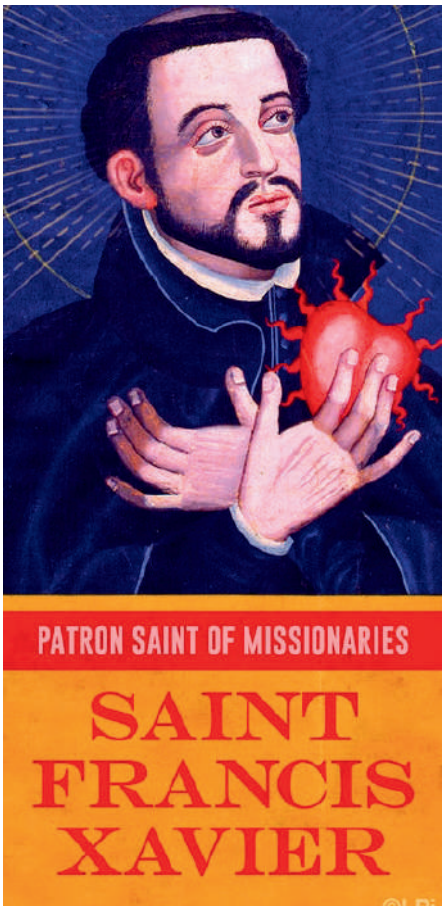

This, unfortunately, is so often how I am with Advent. I gorge myself on the nonsense that looks, sounds, and tastes like Christmas — but never really feels like it. It all appears harmless — light and full of air — these decorations, these social engagements, these consumeristic spirals of gift-giving, these drive-through light shows. I don't even realize it's happening until, on December 25, I find myself so tired I can barely drag myself across the finish line. The lie at the heart of all that excess is the same as the lie at the heart of any evil: I am empty, and all this nothing can fill me up.

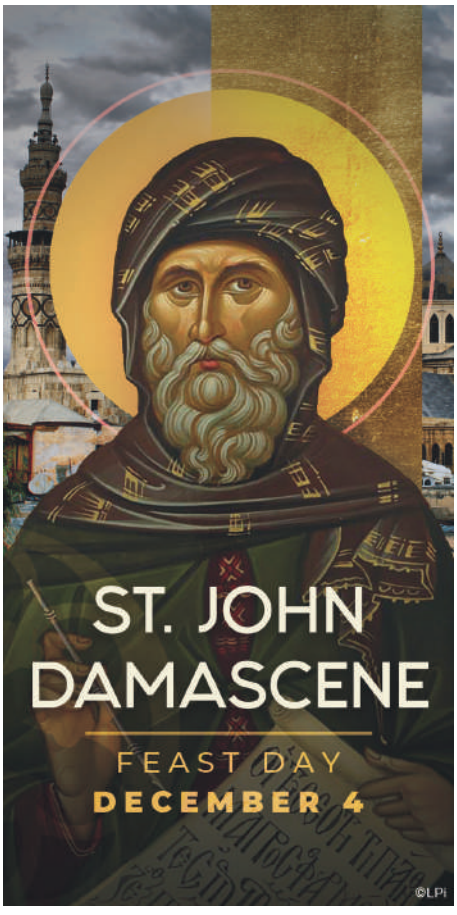

Because December 25 isn't the finish line, is it? It's the beginning. Advent is supposed to be the time of preparation, the time of stillness and calm, of watching and waiting, reflection and renewal. A time that — gasp! — reenergizes you, so that when the lord of the house comes, he won't find you passed out in a pile of tinsel and cookie dough.

So be watchful. Be alert.

ADVIENTO Y NAVIDAD

Temas: Escuchar • Esperar • Confiar • Decir «sí»

Primer domingo de Adviento – 29 de noviembre de 2026

«¡Estén atentos! ¡Vigilen! No saben cuándo llegará el momento». (Marcos 13, 33)

El Adviento comienza con el llamado de Cristo a permanecer vigilantes y atentos. El llamado de Dios se percibe, en primer lugar, cuando aprendemos a reconocer Su voz en medio de las distracciones de la vida cotidiana. ¿Podría el Señor estar invitándote a considerar el sacerdocio o la vida consagrada, para servir a Su pueblo con un corazón generoso? Mantente atento a Su llamado a través de la oración, la adoración eucarística y el tiempo dedicado a las Sagradas Escrituras. Habla con tu sacerdote o comunícate con la Oficina de Vocaciones llamando al (602) 354-2005 o por correo electrónico.
